

Job reference for May El Zein

Ms El Zein, born on 14.07.2000 in Kabrikha, Libanon, was employed as Junior Animation Designer in our company from 01.03.2024 to 31.08.2024.

STABL Energy GmbH is a young high-tech startup that develops innovative power electronics for battery storage systems. Battery storage systems with STABL® inverters stand out from conventional technology, especially due to their reliability, efficiency, and low price. At the time of the student trainees' activity, we have prepared our technology for the market entry into the stationary storage market and have created the basis for further markets (battery-buffered fast charging stations and electromobility).

Ms El Zein supported us significantly, in particular in assisting Marketing with the following tasks:

- Social media posts designs
- 3D rendering the products
- Website UI edits and Translation integration
- Image compositing and editing
- Powerpoint and document design

With her extensive and well-founded expertise, Ms El Zein always achieved good results. She has extensive and good specialist knowledge, which she used very confidently and successfully to fulfil her tasks. Ms El Zein was always an extremely motivated employee. She tackled difficult tasks with great vigor and always found sensible and practicable solutions. She always carried out all tasks independently, with the utmost care and planning. Even in situations with an extremely high workload, Ms El Zein proved to be a very resilient employee and always proceeded in a considered, calm, and goal-oriented manner. She was an efficient employee who always achieved above-average work results. Ms El Zein always completed her tasks to our complete satisfaction and optimally met our expectations in every respect. She was appreciated by superiors, colleagues and customers alike. She always behaved loyally towards the company and impressed us with her personal integrity. Her behaviour was always exemplary. In contact with customers, Ms El Zein was characterized by her extremely professional manner.

Ms El Zein is leaving our company at the end of the agreed period.

We would like to thank Ms El Zein for her consistently outstanding performance and very much regret her departure. We are convinced that she will continue to achieve extraordinary success in the future.
